ELECTION TERM 2017

Foreword

Westminster is no ordinary school. Central to the uniqueness of the Westminster Way is a sense of Service which I firmly believe is at the heart of a liberating Liberal Education.

With our great privilege comes an obligation to give back, and so I am most pleased by this edition of Pink, a publication not unlike my own (Loyal Dissent, £14.99, available in all good bookshops) not only in its confidence but in its loyalty to the principles of a Lovely Liting Liberal Education and Service in the Truest Sense, while dissenting (see what I did there?) in that most Westminster of Ways. I haven't had time to read it, as I have been visiting free schools in Scotland (my own West Lothian campaign, you might say!), but my PA's PA has summarised the pertinent points, which I shall enjoy on my flight to India. Naturally, anyone caught reading this very Westminster magazine can expect to be punished Liberally.

▼ MUN Society

This week MUNsoc will be considering - oh who cares you're in for the trips anyway. Monday 1:10 D04

▼ I Want to be an Investment Banker Society

A rich moron will be telling you the secrets of the "trade" (spoilers: luck). Be sure to arrive on time as it promises to be packed.

▼ French Society

The esteemed author Dr Francoise Maurice will be coming again to talk on her book. Turn up when you like, the Lecture Room will be empty.

▼ Ethnicity Society

Come along to see a stereotype of your culture be ripped apart for appropriation before an audience of mostly white boys here on promise of exotic cuisine.

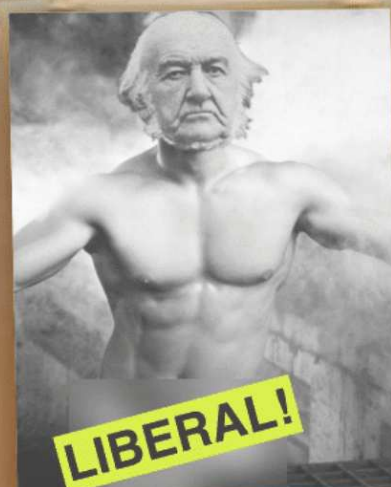

▼ Virtue Signalling Society

Miss Gandon will be giving a powerpoint on her MA research, all welcome (as long as you agree with us).

WHERE EQUALITY IS ESSENTIAL

"I never feel like we have to fight to be included in things or given a voice, the school is a very inclusive and welcoming environment. And I think the boys really like having girls around, especially the younger ones – it's like a whole lot of big sisters!"

Feature: How to Chirpse

Are you an Upper Shell worried about what to do when Girls arrive in September? Fear not, Pink has got you covered. Just use these easy conversation starters to guarantee a girlfriend:

1. Ask them what subjects they're doing

It's ok to ask again in 2 minutes after you forgot

3. What house they're in

Or just try to guess, 1/11 chance. (If the answer is Ashburnham leave it well alone)

5. Who their teachers are

"I had Dr. Huscroft in Lower Shell"
"Cool"

2. What school were they at before Westminster?

(Be sure to follow this up with a question about its whereabouts, just to show you're really interested)

4. Who else came from their old school?

"Oh... I think I know her..."

6. Weren't GCSEs so annoying

"Yeah..."

LEAKED: Transcripts From Departmental Meetings

SMC

Deneal: I had a really good idea, let's move the timetable back by ten minutes every other day!

Mrs Clanchy: shhhh Deneal, the adults are talking now.

Deneal: We could shorten lessons by 36 seconds on a full moon!

HM: What an excellent idea, Deneal, could you email my third under-secretary about it? Punctuality and Productivity must become the Westminster Way as part of a Liberating Liberal Education. Mr Gladstone, who was Prime Minister four times, was never late to anything...

Kemball: And abolish punishments for Whites: it's not racist it's their legitimate interest.

HM: Let's talk about the next Head Boy.

Enter HM's fortieth PA

HM: Ah, the list of donors, thank you, Prudence.

Kemball: Not [REDACTED], can't have an Asian.

Clanchy: [REDACTED]'s mother is very involved in the Parents Committee.

HM: I am delighted to appoint [REDACTED]

Mr Chequer sits in silence, alone.

His thoughts turn to how to crowbar that lingerie scene into the next musical...

He writes out the dramatic programme for the next few years:

2018 - Coriolanus

2019 - A Midsummer Night's Wet Dream

2020 - A sixth-former Named Desire

2021 - The Importance of Being Undressed

2022 - King Leer

Mr Davies: Hello everyone... Is that a Fifth former? Get ou—

Mr Au: —No sir, it's [REDACTED], the newest member of the department...

Mr Davies: Ah yes. Well then...

awkward silence

Mr Cousins: Is that really fit girl going to be at the Remove ball this year?

Mr Au, to Mr Davies, whispered: I thought we only hired gay men?

awkward silence

Dr McCombie's Class

Dr McCombie enters, 20mins late...

Sixth Former: Why are you so late, sir?

Dunc: I have three jobs, five degrees, forty-two doctorates, and an prize winning orchestra to lead.

Sixth Former: Have you marked our Virgil essays yet sir?

Dunc: I have three children, Tallulah.

Sixth former: so do I, sir, I went to South Hampstead.
